

APPENDIX A

DRUG DIVERSION BY THIRD PARTIES IN SUMMIT AND CUYAHOGA COUNTIES

Prescribing Practitioners

Through discovery in this action, the following non-party prescribing practitioners have been identified as having improperly prescribed or diverted prescription opioids in the Track One Counties:

1. Dr. Syed Jawed Akhtar-Zaidi, a medical doctor, operated a medical office called Pain Management of Northern Ohio in Solon, Ohio. Dr. Akhtar-Zaidi was indicted on August 27, 2014 in the Northern District of Ohio on charges including distributing Dilaudid, Duragesic patches, methadone, morphine, morphine ER, MS Contin, Opana ER, Opana IR, OxyContin, Percocet, Vicodin, and Vicoprofen outside the usual course of professional practice and not for a legitimate medical purpose, in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1), (b)(1)(C), and (b)(1)(E). Dr. Akhtar-Zaidi was also charged with conspiring with employees of his medical staff to illegally distribute prescription drugs. The charges were for conduct that went as far back as 2010. In December 2013, Dr. Akhtar-Zaidi fled the United States, potentially to Pakistan; he remains a fugitive at-large.¹

2. Dr. Haitham Azem, a medical doctor practicing at University Hospital in Bedford, Ohio, was sued for medical malpractice by the estate of David Skisano.² Mr. Skisano died of an opioid overdose on June 28, 2015. The estate alleges that Dr. Azem negligently prescribed Mr. Skisano hydrocodone despite knowing that Mr. Skisano was addicted to opioids.³ The proceedings are ongoing.

3. Dr. Stephen Bernie, a medical doctor who practiced medicine at the Medical Care Group, which has had offices in Cleveland, North Olmsted, Parma, Euclid, and Warrensville Heights, Ohio, pled guilty on April 5, 2017 to felony charges of drug trafficking (codeine/acetaminophen) and workers' compensation fraud. The convictions were for prescribing opioids without examining or monitoring the individuals requesting them, among other conduct. Dr. Bernie received a six-month suspended sentence and a year of probation, and he also was required to pay $30,000 in restitution to the Ohio Bureau of Workers' Compensation.⁴

4. Dr. Toni Carman, a medical doctor who practiced medicine in Beachwood, Ohio, pled guilty in 2014 in the Cuyahoga County Court of Common Pleas to offenses including trafficking drugs and deception to obtain dangerous drugs. The convictions were for writing unlawful prescriptions of oxycodone-based drugs. Dr. Carman was sentenced to two years in prison.⁵

5. Dr. Ronald Celeste, a medical doctor operating a pill mill (Westshore Family Practice) in Westlake, Ohio, pled guilty in February 2016 in the Cuyahoga County Common Pleas to drug trafficking. Dr. Celeste wrote more than 33,000 prescriptions for controlled substances—including OxyContin, Percocet, and Codeine—from 2009 to 2011. Investigators found that Dr. Celeste indiscriminately dispersed scheduled narcotics, engaged in only superficial medical treatment, and failed to meet even minimal standards of medical practice. On April 5, 2016, Dr. Celeste was sentenced to three years in prison and was required to give up his medical license permanently.⁶

6. Dr. Thomas L. Craig III of Cleveland Heights, Ohio pled guilty in Cuyahoga Court of Common Pleas on April 16, 2018 to offenses including trafficking oxycodone and oxymorphone. Dr. Craig ran a pill mill and peddled prescription drugs, including OxyContin, from April 2010 to March 2012. On April 30, 2018, he was sentenced to three years in prison.⁷

7. Dr. David Carl Ernst was a flight surgeon at Metro Life Flight in Cleveland, Ohio. Dr. Ernst improperly ordered Vicodin and tramadol between February 2001 and July 2004 through a wholesale pharmacy. Effective August 11, 2004, the Medical Board suspended Dr. Ernst's license indefinitely, for at least 180 days.⁸

8. Dr. Matthew Henry Evenhouse wrote prescriptions for Percocet using fictitious patients' names and the names and DEA numbers of other physicians without their knowledge. Effective April 9, 2008, the Medical Board suspended Dr. Evenhouse's license to practice medicine and surgery indefinitely, but for no less than 180 days.⁹

9. Dr. Bruce Feldman, a medical doctor from Shaker Heights, Ohio, was indicted in the Cuyahoga County Court of Common Pleas for offenses including drug trafficking, money laundering, and operating a criminal enterprise. Dr. Feldman allegedly knowingly sold medically unnecessary oxycodone and hydrocodone to patients at his pain clinics in Shaker Heights, Parma Heights, and Solon, Ohio.¹⁰

10. Dr. Maged Fouad was identified in an interrogatory response by Plaintiffs Summit County and the City of Akron as a doctor prosecuted or the subject of disciplinary actions for illegal or improper prescribing of opioids.¹¹

11. Dr. Gregory Gerber, a pain management specialist, was identified by plaintiffs in their supplemental interrogatory responses as an individual who engaged in inappropriate prescribing or other illegal acts concerning diversion in plaintiffs' geographical boundaries.¹² Dr. Gerber was temporarily enjoined from prescribing opioids on August 30, 2018 in the Northern District of Ohio. According to the Department of Justice, Dr. Gerber improperly prescribed controlled substances, including Subsys (a fentanyl medication) and prescribed oxycodone to an undercover agent who received a minimal medical examination and did not complain of pain. In announcing the complaint filed against Dr. Gerber and another doctor, U.S. Attorney Justin Herdman said “[t]hese doctors were simply drug dealers in white lab coats.” According to DEA Special Agent in Charge Timothy Planon, “[t]he physicians in this investigation were nothing short of automatic prescription machines to anyone who solicited,” and “[t]heir reckless actions and corruption has had a tremendous [effect on] opioid addiction that is plaguing America.” Proceedings in this case are ongoing.¹³

12. Dr. Marcellus JaJuan Gilreath, also known as Stephen Wayne Gilreath, a medical doctor from Cleveland, Ohio, pled guilty to conspiracy for indiscriminately providing cocktails of controlled substances, including hydrocodone and oxycodone, between January 2009 and June 2011. Dr. Gilreath worked at pain clinics in central and southern Ohio that received customers from hundreds of miles away.¹⁴ Dr. Gilreath had a disciplinary history with the Medical Board dating back to 1995, and he surrendered his medical license on July 10, 2013.¹⁵

13. Dr. Aimee Haber (formerly Chappelow), a medical resident practicing at the Cleveland Clinic, diverted Percocet from family members and wrote fictitious prescriptions for Percocet. On or about January 26, 2009, she attempted to fill a fictitious prescription of oxycodone but was prevented from doing so when the pharmacist flagged the prescription for verification. The Medical Board suspended her training certificate indefinitely, but for no less than 180 days.¹⁶

14. Dr. Ghassan Haddad, a medical doctor practicing at University Hospital in Bedford, Ohio, was sued for medical malpractice by the estate of David Skisano.¹⁷ Mr. Skisano died of an opioid overdose on June 28, 2015. The estate alleges that Dr. Haddad negligently prescribed Mr. Skisano hydrocodone despite knowing that Mr. Skisano was addicted to opioids.¹⁸ The proceedings are ongoing.

15. Dr. Adolph Harper, Jr., a medical doctor practicing in Akron, Ohio, pled guilty on October 20, 2014, to conspiracy to distribute oxycodone, drug trafficking, health care fraud, and drug trafficking. Before September 2009, Dr. Harper worked as an obstetrician/gynecologist. Between September 2009 and May 2012, Dr. Harper operated his “medical practice” as a pain management facility, despite not having any certification or training in pain management. During that timeframe, Dr. Harper illegally prescribed hundreds of thousands of doses of painkillers and other pills—including OxyContin, Percocet, Roxicet, Opana, and other opioids—outside the usual course of professional practice and not for a legitimate medical purpose. While Dr. Harper typically conducted cursory physical examinations for customers who came to his office, he often issued prescriptions without seeing his customers at all, providing pre-signed prescription pads to members of his staff. Dr. Harper also distributed drugs to his customers in combinations and quantities that were dangerous for them to consume, such as a narcotic painkiller prescribed in combination with a stimulant, anti-anxiety, or sleep-aid medicine. Dr. Harper continued distributing to customers who were visibly addicted and repeatedly overdosed on his prescription medication, as well as after at least eight of his customers died of drug overdoses. On February 13, 2015, Dr. Harper was sentenced to ten years in prison and ordered to pay $417,346 in restitution.¹⁹

16. Dr. Brian Heim, a medical doctor practicing in Akron, Ohio, pled guilty on December 12, 2014 in the Northern District of Ohio to conspiracy to distribute controlled substances and distribution of controlled substances, in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1) and (b)(1)(C). The convictions were for illegally distributing, and agreeing with other to illegally distribute, oxycodone, OxyContin, and Opana outside the usual course of professional practice and not for a legitimate medical purpose, between August 2011 and October 2012. On March 16, 2015, Dr. Heim was sentenced to 63 months in prison.²⁰ Dr. Heim had previously (in 1998) pled guilty to 24 felony counts of theft of drugs, after which his medical license was revoked by the Medical Board. The Medical Board then reinstated Dr. Heim's medical license with restrictions, and Dr. Heim was placed on probation until January 2005. Plaintiffs identified Dr. Heim in interrogatory responses as a physician with a criminal and disciplinary history involving prescription opioids.²¹

17. Dr. Juan Hernandez, a medical doctor working in Parma, Ohio, was disciplined by the State of Ohio Board of Pharmacy ("Board of Pharmacy") on December 9, 2015. Dr.

Hernandez admitted that, among other improper practices, he allowed two of his employees to access his individual Ohio Automated Rx Reporting System (“OARRS”) account without having appropriate delegation accounts with the Board of Pharmacy, did not have a structured ongoing quality assurance program for his pain management practice, and prescribed controlled substances to patients without timely obtaining an OARRS report. The Board of Pharmacy permanently revoked Dr. Hernandez’s Terminal Distributor of Dangerous Drugs with Pain Management Classification license and fined him $2,000.²²

18. Dr. William Husel, a medical doctor who was a resident at the Cleveland Clinic from 2008 to 2013, is under investigation by the Ohio Department of Health, prosecutors, and health systems for ordering excessive and possibly fatal doses of prescription fentanyl for dozens of hospital patients.²³

19. Dr. Gregory Ingram, a medical doctor working at Akron General Medical Center’s Emergency Department in Akron, Ohio, was indicted on May 28, 2015 in the Northern District of Ohio on charges including distributing oxycodone, hydromorphone, Roxicet, and tramadol outside the usual course of professional practice and not for a legitimate medical purpose, in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1) and (b)(1)(C). According to the indictment, Dr. Ingram traded the illegal prescriptions for money and sexual favors, including with contacts that he met at dancing and strip clubs, between November 2012 and October 2014. Dr. Ingram pled guilty to all charges, and his own sentencing memorandum acknowledged that “he had become the equivalent of a drug dealer.” He was then sentenced to one year in prison.²⁴

20. Dr. John Kavlich III, a medical doctor practicing at Patient First in Berea, Ohio, was sued for medical malpractice by the estate of Mark Nicholson, who died of an opioid overdose on December 10, 2016. Dr. Kavlich, who served as Mr. Nicholson's primary care physician beginning in 2015, is alleged to have continued prescribing Mr. Nicholson opioid medications despite his apparent opioid addiction. The proceedings are ongoing.²⁵

21. Matthew D. Kellems, a medical doctor who practiced at University Hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, diverted Dilaudid from operating rooms when he was an anesthesiology resident. Effective November 12, 2009, the Medical Board indefinitely suspended Dr. Kellems's license to practice medicine.²⁶

22. Dr. William Balint Kerek of Akron, Ohio had his medical license suspended by the Medical Board effective February 15, 2010. From 2003 to 2007, Dr. Kerek failed to properly document controlled substance prescriptions in patient records and inappropriately prescribed increasing quantities of opioid medications to patients, even when they displayed signs of drug seeking or drug abuse. He continued to prescribe MS Contin to one patient despite evidence that the patient was dismissed from a pain clinic for trading narcotics and illegal substances. Dr. Kerek inappropriately prescribed Dilaudid to another patient despite evidence that the patient was seeking pain medications from multiple providers. Further, Dr. Kerek inappropriately made no changes in treatment when a patient, for whom Dr. Kerek prescribed oxycodone, displayed no oxycodone in a drug screen. He also increased the dosage of one patient's chronic narcotic

23. Dr. Tony Lababidi was identified in an interrogatory response by Plaintiffs Summit County and the City of Akron as a doctor prosecuted or the subject of disciplinary actions for illegal or improper prescribing of opioids.²⁸

24. Dr. Lorenzo Lalli, a medical doctor practicing in Cleveland, Ohio, pled guilty on June 16, 2014 to offenses including trafficking, for operating a pill mill out of his medical office and for selling prescriptions for powerful painkillers and other pharmaceutical drugs. On July 29, 2014, Dr. Lalli was sentenced to one year in prison and ordered to forfeit $220,000. Dr. Lalli had earlier (in November 2013) surrendered his medical license to the Medical Board in lieu of further investigation or formal disciplinary charges.²⁹ Dr. Lalli was identified in the 30(b)(6) deposition of Cuyahoga County, through designee Assistant Cuyahoga County Prosecutor James A. Gutierrez, as a doctor who was prosecuted for misconduct related to prescription opioids.

25. Dr. Frank Lazzerini, a medical doctor practicing in Ohio, was identified in an interrogatory response by Plaintiffs Summit County and the City of Akron as a doctor prosecuted or the subject of disciplinary actions for illegal or improper prescribing of opioids.³⁰

26. Dr. Joseph Francis Lydon, Jr. of Cleveland, Ohio diverted residual portions of fentanyl that had not been required for patient anesthesia. Effective December 13, 2008, the Medical Board suspended his license to practice medicine. His license was restored on March 14, 2012.³¹

27. Dr. Mark S. McAllister, a medical doctor who practiced at the Cleveland Clinic, diverted fentanyl in December 1997, during his first year as an anesthesia resident, and falsified documentation about the fentanyl he diverted. On March 21, 2004, Dr. McAllister also diverted fentanyl from a surgical patient under his care. Effective May 12, 2004, the Medical Board suspended Dr. McAllister's medical license indefinitely, but for not less than one year.³²

28. The Medical Care Group, a medical clinic chain, which has had offices in Cleveland, North Olmsted, Parma, Euclid, and Warrensville Heights, Ohio, was fined $12,500 in April 2017 for charges relating to a doctor-employee's handing out prescription opioids without an examination or monitoring of the individuals requesting them.³³

doctor prosecuted or the subject of disciplinary actions for illegal or improper prescribing of opioids.³⁴

30. Dr. Samuel Nigro of Cleveland, Ohio pled guilty on April 18, 2013 in the Cuyahoga County Court of Common Pleas to offenses including tampering with drugs and trafficking in oxycodone. Dr. Nigro used his psychiatry practice in Lakewood, Beachwood, and Cleveland Heights, Ohio to operate a pill mill. This misconduct was exposed during an investigation by the Ohio State Pharmacy Board and the Cleveland Police narcotics unit. According to the Assistant Cuyahoga County Prosecutor, patients would pay Dr. Nigro $100 to $200 for prescriptions for OxyContin, oxycodone and Percocet. He was sentenced to nine months in prison and one year of post-release community control.³⁵

31. Dr. Charles Chiedo Njoku, a medical doctor practicing in Akron, Ohio was prosecuted for misconduct related to opioids, according to interrogatory responses of Summit County and the City of Akron.³⁶

32. Northeast Ohio Pain Clinic was identified in the 30(b)(6) deposition of Cuyahoga County, through designee Dr. Thomas Gilson (the Cuyahoga County Medical Examiner), as a contributor to the alleged opioid crisis because it was “an illicit source of opioid pain reliever.”³⁷

The case against Dr. Rakhit is pending.³⁸

34. Dr. Ashis K. Rakhit, a medical doctor practicing in Cleveland, Strongsville, and Parma, Ohio, was indicted in the Northern District of Ohio on January 17, 2018 on charges including distribution of controlled substances (Percocet and tramadol) outside the usual course of professional practice and not for a legitimate medical purpose, in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1), (b)(1)(C), and (b)(2). The case against Dr. Rakhit is pending.³⁹

35. Dr. Rakesh Ranjan is a medical doctor who operates the Charak Center for Health and Wellness. According to the replacement supplemental interrogatory responses of Summit County and the City of Akron, Dr. Ranjan is under investigation for diversion of prescription opioids within Summit County and Akron.⁴⁰

36. Dr. George Smirnoff, of Cleveland, Ohio, pled guilty to drug trafficking in 1999 for unnecessarily prescribing drugs to patients—including Percocet and Vicoden—causing many of them to become addicts. Dr. Smirnoff prescribed medication to patients in exchange for sexual favors. More than 100 patients passed through Dr. Smirnoff's office daily, where Dr. Smirnoff dispensed opioids directly—sometimes providing 50 times the legal dosage of drugs in a single prescription.⁴¹ More than 80 percent of Dr. Smirnoff's approximately 3,000 patients were addicts, and nine eventually died of overdoses. Assistant Cuyahoga County Prosecutor James A. Gutierrez testified in his deposition that Dr. Smirnoff was "one of the larger pill mills in" Cuyahoga County and that his misconduct was "brazen" and "outrageous." After the DEA investigated Dr. Smirnoff in the 1990s, but did not succeed in getting a U.S. Attorney's Office to prosecute him, Dr. Smirnoff renamed his boat "Injection." Mr. Gutierrez agreed with his prior media statement that Dr. Smirnoff "ruined lives and . . . killed people; [he] did so much damage to the community, I can't even put it into words."⁴²

37. Dr. Kutaiba Tabaa, a medical doctor practicing at the MetroHealth System in Cleveland, Ohio, was sued for medical malpractice by the estate of Mark Nicholson, who died of an opioid overdose on December 10, 2016. Dr. Kutaiba, who served as Mr. Nicholson's pain management physician beginning in 2015, is alleged to have continued prescribing Mr. Nicholson opioid medications despite his apparent opioid addiction. The proceedings are ongoing.⁴³

38. Dr. Margy Temponeras, a medical doctor practicing in Ohio, pled guilty on April 7, 2017 to conspiracy to distribute a controlled substance due to her ownership and operation of a pill mill. From June 2005 to May 2011, Dr. Temponeras and her father, another physician, saw more than 20 patients each day, received cash payments for medical examinations, and provided monthly prescriptions for drugs including oxycodone. Dr. Temponeras became aware that some pharmacies had declined to accept or fill the prescriptions she wrote, so she opened a dispensary, called Unique Relief LLC, from the same location as her clinic in order to fill her own prescriptions.⁴⁴ Plaintiffs named Dr. Temponeras in their supplemental interrogatory responses as a doctor who was arrested and prosecuted for misconduct involving opioids.⁴⁵

39. Dr. Michael P. Tricaso of Akron, Ohio was permanently enjoined, on October 26, 2018 in the Northern District of Ohio, from administering, dispensing (including by prescribing), or distributing any controlled substance. Under the consent decree, Dr. Tricaso also agreed never to apply for, or seek the renewal or reinstatement of, a license to practice medicine or a registration under the Controlled Substances Act.⁴⁶ According to the complaint, Dr. Tricaso, who operated the Better Living Clinic of Akron, illegally prescribed, distributed, and dispensed controlled substances, including oxycodone, from April 2018 to August 2018, without a legitimate medical purpose and outside the usual course of professional practice.⁴⁷

40. Dr. Herman Weaver, a medical doctor practicing in Ohio, was arrested on May 20, 2014 in South Euclid, Ohio, while trying to fill a fraudulent prescription at Marc's Pharmacy. On March 2, 2015, Dr. Weaver pled guilty in the Cuyahoga Court of Common Pleas to conspiracy, possessing criminal tools, and deception to obtain a dangerous drug. Weaver was one of eleven defendants indicted in a fraudulent prescription drug scheme, in which he would

Dr. Weaver was sentenced to twelve years and six months in prison.⁴⁸

41. Dr. Richard Mark Weil of Akron, Ohio had his license to practice medicine suspended indefinitely by the Medical Board effective November 12, 2008. Beginning in early 2007, Dr. Weil diverted hydrocodone syrup, including by prescribing a large volume of hydrocodone syrup to his patients, having patients bring the medication back in follow-up appointments, and then diverting portions of the medication under the pretense that he needed to review the prescription or medication.⁴⁹

42. Dr. Jerome Yokiell, a medical doctor operating a pain management center in Beachwood, Ohio, had his license suspended indefinitely by the Medical Board, effective November 8, 2017. 1169. John W. Whitmore of Cleveland, Ohio pled guilty on August 16, 2016 in the Cuyahoga County Court of Common Pleas to trafficking fentanyl and heroin, corrupting another with drugs, and other related offenses. He was sentenced to six years in prison.¹⁴⁹³

1170. Brian L. Williams of Akron, Ohio pled guilty on December 30, 2016 in the Northern District of Ohio to possession with intent to distribute fentanyl. During the sentencing hearing for Mr. Williams' co-defendant, Akron Detective Michael Gilbride testified that Mr. Williams and his co-defendant sold drugs from their residence in a "large-scale trafficking operation," and the court found that Mr. Williams may have been "the primary leader" of the operation. In a search of the residence, law enforcement officers had recovered fentanyl, heroin, plastic baggies, digital scales, grinders, and cutting agents. As Detective Gilbride testified, grinders and cutting agents are necessary to crush heroin, purchased in bulk, into powder and process it for further distribution. The sentencing judge observed that Mr. Williams resided in a "drug house."¹⁴⁹⁴ On April 17, 2017, Mr. Williams was sentenced to 180 months in prison.¹⁴⁹⁵ Mr. Williams had previously been convicted in the Summit County Court of Common Pleas of trafficking in heroin.¹⁴⁹⁶

1171. Carmen Christine Williams of Akron, Ohio, pled guilty on December 5, 2012 in the Summit County Court of Common Pleas of offenses including trafficking in heroin. She was sentenced to two years of community control. On September 4, 2018, Ms. Williams was
